PULL TEETH FROM BILLS THEN PASS, IS LATEST

Legislature to Keep Party Pledges After Its Own Manner

BALLOT BILL POSSIBLE

Non-Partisan Measure May be Adopted in Exchange for Primary Measure

Harrisburg, June 19—With the senate virtually committed to an adjournment on June 26, there is an air of expectancy prevalent that compromise will be the order all along the line It is stated that the senate program is to pass emasculated bills of all the progressive measures, which will be minus teeth in most instances, but at the same time convey the impression that the party pledges have been kept.

It is now believed in many quarters that the senate will permit a non-partisan ballot law to go through which will apply to the judiciary and to cities, boroughs and townships, in exchange for the state wide primary bill that body insists on which will prevent fusion and the formation of independent parties and the party enrollment bill. The child labor bill has been so amendedas to provide for 10 hours, and to exempt canneries and laundries from the provisions of the bill, and to permit boys to work in glass houses at night. It is doubtful, however, if the measure can pull through it this form.

One of the big fights will be over the workingmen's compensation law, which the senate seems determined to pass in a form that will make its provisions elective. Organized labor is up in arms over this bill, and will voice a mighty protest in case the elective clause is retained. It is possible that a compromise will be effected, but forces seem to be at work that are determined to ultimately defeat the bill which is one of Governor Tener's measures.

The Washington county ripper bill designated to rip the Washington county poor overseers out of office failed to pass the house by a vote of 88 to 61. It was in charge of T. B. H. Brownlee who may make an effort to have it reconsidered.

Friday sessions of the house were ordred Wednesday and it is expected that the senate will work longer hours than usual in order to make the get-a-way next Thursday. It is probable, however, that many of the important bills will be lost in the final shuffle.

Business Will Remain The Same.

Since the death of Wilmot D. Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs. Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Roscoe and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. Melenyzer, who recently secured his state licence as an undertaker, continue the business as heretofore. During the illness of Mr. Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with its undertaking. 278-t6-M-2

It Is "Fife" Now for Five

Telephone Operators Authorities on the Pronunciation of Figures

No longer is the word five in the vernacular of the Bell Telephone system "five." It is "fife." For instance if your call is "15," you pronounce distictly to the operator "one-five." She repeats to you "one-fife." It is not because she dosn't know—who ever heard of a telephone central operator who did not know how to pronunce figures? Indeed she does know, and knows that "fife" is a great deal more distinguishable a sound over the telephone wires than "five." So that is the reason she says "fife." The instructions to the operators are general over the entire system and "fife" it is universally.

BOY AND MATCHES FIRE COMBINATION

Said that Conflagration on Hill Today Was Started by Three-Year-old Lad---Stable is Practically Destroyed

A fire said to have been started by a three-year old boy playing about the premises partly consumed a stable belonging to Joseph Nandor, at 1036 Meadow avenue this morning at 9 o'clock. The interior of the stable was gutted. The loss is covered by insurance.

It is asserted that the boy was playing with others of his own age, and had got into the stable. He had matches. With a combination like that fire was inevitable. Smoke was discovered issuing from the top of the stable by a resident nearby and the alarm was turned in.

The boy is stated to have scampered for his home when he discovered what had happened, but reappeared later, it is understood to watch the firemen valiantly fight the flames. It proved to be a comparatively small matte to control the fi , but not until after it had completely wreck d the interior. Mr. Nandor has two horses and a cow which he keeps in the stable, but it so happened that he had them both out when the fire started. The damage would probably total $200.

LOCK VIEW LOTS WELL LOCATED

Are in the Most Prosperous Section of the World--Lot Sale Tomorrow

Are you interested in securing a home? If so don't forget the big lot sale at Lockview Terrace, in North Charleroi, which will be held there Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21. This is one of the greatest offers to homeseekers that has ever been made in this section. The sale begins at 1 o'clock each afternoon.

Lock View Terrace is located in the most prosprous section of the world. This may sound like an extravagant statement, but it is the actual truth. It is a well known fact that the Pittsburg district is the most extensive industrial and manufacturing center on the globe, and that more freight and manufactured products originate here than anywhere else in the world. This part of the Monongahela valley is one of the most prosperous and busy sections of the Pittsburg District, and Lock View Terrace is convenient to all the big industries of the section. That is what makes it so desirable a location for homes for working men.

A working man living at Lock View Terrace has a chance to get work in a dozen different directions and live at home. Best of schools and churches. Direct street car connections to all factories, mills and mines.

Don't miss the contest whereby you have a chance to win a lot worth $200 free, or a sewing machine worth $60 free to the lady winning the contest. Buy a lot now, and stop paying rent.

A free automobile servive will run from Fifth street, Charleroi, to Lock View Terrace every 30 minutes during the sale each sale. Free band concerts will be given at the grounds. This is the opportunity of a lifetime. Take advantage of it now. 279t1

Badly Hurt in Runaway

Fallowfield Woman and Daughters Are Thrown From Buggy

Mrs. J. M. Letherman, of Fallowfield township is suffering from serious injuries sustained on Monday of this week in a runaway and two of her daughters, Mrs. Anna O'Hara and Miss O a Letherman are sufferi g from minor hurts. Mrs. Letherman and daughters had barely got in their buggy to start from home to attend an entertainment at a school not far distant, when their horse, an old and trusted family animal, through some queer reason started on a run down the road. When the horse turned a sharp corner, the buggy was overturned and the three thrown out. Mrs. Letherman hit on her shoulders and was the worst injured.

MONTH OF JUNE THE BUSIEST

Eldora Park Has One of Best Four Weeks' Periods of History

DATES BOOKED AHEAD

If there is good weather next week and the various events scheduled are held Eldora Park will hav had one of th busiest months in all its history. Next week will begin the apparance on Sunday of one of the most famous bands in Western Pennsylvania, the Nirella band from Pittsburg, with Joe Nirella at the head.

The Nirella band will appear in the afternoon and in the evening, giving a concert both times With the band will come Morris Rosen, a tenor soloist, who will sing some of the latest song hits. He is a beautiful singer, and one that is not unknown to the Monongahela valley having appeared at dances at various points in solo work.

Sunday concert programs at Eldora park have not been weak but on the contrary this summer have been exceptionally strong. But the Nirella band will be far superior to any musical attraction thus far. On last Sunday it appeared at Shady Grove Uark at Uniontown of which R. S. Coyle of Charleroi is the manager and because of its concerts there fully 10,000 people visited the park. As a result of the popular demand there Manager Coyle has booked the band for two return dates.

During this week one of the most important picnics of the picnic season was held at Eldora when on Wednesday the Ladies Auxiliary of the Monessen Lodge of Elks visited the resort. In the afternoon "500"

Religious Campaign Has Marked Effect Upon Big Steel Town

VALLEY INTERESTED

Special Reservations of Seats for Special Nights---Charleroi People Attend

Monessen is in the throes of a big religious revival. The tabernacle meetings started there some time ago by the ministers of the evangilistical denominations, in charge of Rev. Dr. John Hamilton of Cleveland, are beginning to wield a mighty influence, which is being felt in every quarte of the community. The big tabernacle is said to be crowded nightly, while the Sunday attendance is phenomenal. The structure, which was built for the occasion, is located on the hill at the head of Sixth street and will seat about 1,800 people.

Last Saturday evening a big parade was held in which fully 1,000 men, women and children participated, marching through the principal streets of the town singing hymns, and thnce to the tabernacle. During the week a number of special services were scheduled. Tuesday night was W. C. T. U. night and the service was attended by delegation of white ribbon women belonging to the order from all the towns in the valley which have an organization. Wednesday night a special sermon was preached to young people. Friday evening has been designated as "Business Men's Night," and on Saturday night the Tin Plate mill have a special section of the tabrnacle reserved for employes of that plant.

Next Sunday afternoon the Knights of Malta of the valley will march as a body to the afternoon service and on Tuesday night a delegation from Charleroi has asked for a large reservation of seats.

It is stated that the metings are making a profound impression with the result that Monessen will likely be a different town as soon as the forces for better moral conditions have been started to work. Like all new industria towns a more or less wide open condition has been tolerated on the grounds that it "helped business." The people are beginning to learn by sad experince that this is a false economic view, as business will prosper wherever people are steadily employed and have regular wants to supply. The official shakeups and the cleaning up of disordery places the past few months in that community are likely to be preliminary to a different state of affairs in the future, it is said. A movement is to be inaugurated whereby the people will have the say in public affairs instead of the business and specia interests.

A PRACTICAL MOVE.

The decision on the part of the Charleroi school board to install a class for instruction in domestic science for girls is a most progressive move in the direction of practical education. In this department instructions will be given in teaching girls to cook and to sew. While these instructions may not be complete enough to qualify the pupils to become expert cooks and seamstresses, they are most helpful in stimulating a desire on the part of the pupils to become proficient along those lines, and to pave the way for a continuation of these arts in after life. Good cooks and seamstresses are scarce.

In the matter of sewing a vast field is open for young women to acquire a profitable and congenial occupation. There is not a community, urban or suburban, where a constant cry does not go up for proficient seamstresses. In spite of the low wages paid to women for factory and store work, and the overcrowded condition of those industries, the field for private seamstresses has scarcely yet been invaded. All that is necessary is for a girl or woman to show proficiency in the art of cutting, fitting and needle work, and she is assured of a profitable occupation. This is the one handicraft that is still open to women, and which assures independence and a competence.

It is practically the same in the matter of cooking. In this occupation there are social questions which makes it more or less objectionable to girls and women as a profession. In the homes, however, the art is most desirable and as most school girls expect to ultimately become the mistress of a home, it is imperative that they be taught the fundamental knowledge of the art of cooking. The girl who learns to cook and to sew has an accomplishment that will always stand her in hand, no matter what her condition in life may be. The woman who cannot cook, sew or sing, is devoid of all the feminine graces.

Lunches will be served on the grounds and places provided for those bringing baskets. A big street parade, the equal of which has never been attempted in the Pigeon creek vally, will be the culmination of several weeks' endeavor to produce the most magnificent floats ever seen there.

MULES SAID TO BE THE INNOCENT CAUSE OF STRIKE

Because one of the drivers refused to drive a team of mules instead of his usual pair of horses a strike is on it is stated at the Monongahela brewery. None of the men reported for work Wednesday. The engineer came on duty late in time to save a large amount of the brewery's product then in the brew kettles. Although Manager Henius says no demand has been made the men say they will not return to work until the driver is given back his team of horses.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The Chicago Tribune mentions a number of incidents that might happen which it terms "Little Surprises." Inasmuch as they seldom if ever happen, they would be surprises indeed in the actuality. Here are some of them:

"Finish your good-by, miss; I'll hold th train for a few seconds more."

"I beg your pardon, sir, for carrying you past your floor; I'll go right back."

"You needn't grip the chair so hard, Mr. Akers; the work I am going to do on that tooth won't hurt you a bit this time."

"Dear Sir: We are offered $25,000 for those old mining shares of yours, hold the train for a few seconds

"Harry, I—d've reconsidered; if you still feel towards me as you did a month ago, why—perhaps—"

'Your manuscript is accepted. Inclosed find check. Send us anoth story."

The appearance of dewberries in the market calls to mind a story that is told by a woman who visited in Maryland last year. It appeared that at the house where she was a guest they had a colored "auntie" who was both cook and nursemaid. One evening when the auntie was finishing up her work in the kitchen one of the children—a six-year-old boy—was heard howling lustily from that quarter of the house. The mistress called down to ask what was the matter with the child.

"Auntie," she called, "what's Willie crying about?"

"Please missus, it's de dewberries."

"Well, don't give him any more. He's had enough already.

"Dem's de ones he's whoopin' about," was the reply. "He's all swoled up."

PULL TEETH FROM BILLS THEN PASS, IS LATEST

Legislature to Keep Party Pledges After Its Own Manner

BALLOT BILL POSSIBLE

Non-Partisan Measure May be Adopted in Exchange for Primary Measure

Harrisburg, June 19—With the senate virtually committed to an adjournment on June 26, there is an air of expectancy prevalent that compromise will be the order all along the line It is stated that the senate program is to pass emasculated bills of all the progressive measures, which will be minus teeth in most instances, but at the same time convey the impression that the party pledges have been kept.

It is now believed in many quarters that the senate will permit a non-partisan ballot law to go through which will apply to the judiciary and to cities, boroughs and townships, in exchange for the state wide primary bill that body insists on which will prevent fusion and the formation of independent parties and the party enrollment bill. The child labor bill has been so amendedas to provide for 10 hours, and to exempt canneries and laundries from the provisions of the bill, and to permit boys to work in glass houses at night. It is doubtful, however, if the measure can pull through it this form.

One of the big fights will be over the workingmen's compensation law, which the senate seems determined to pass in a form that will make its provisions elective. Organized labor is up in arms over this bill, and will voice a mighty protest in case the elective clause is retained. It is possible that a compromise will be effected, but forces seem to be at work that are determined to ultimately defeat the bill which is one of Governor Tener's measures.

The Washington county ripper bill designated to rip the Washington county poor overseers out of office failed to pass the house by a vote of 88 to 61. It was in charge of T. B. H. Brownlee who may make an effort to have it reconsidered.

Friday sessions of the house were ordred Wednesday and it is expected that the senate will work longer hours than usual in order to make the get-a-way next Thursday. It is probable, however, that many of the important bills will be lost in the final shuffle.

Business Will Remain The Same.

Since the death of Wilmot D Hancock, many people have inquired as to whether or not the undertaking business would still be conducted by Mrs. Hancock. She desires to state that she will remain in Roscoe and with the assistance of her brother, Chas. Melanyzer, who recently secured his state licence as an undertaker, continue the business as heretofore. During the illness of Mr. Hancock a large portion of the work connected with the business was done by Mrs. Hancock, and she is therefore familiar with its undertaking. 278-t6-M-2

Telephone Operators Authorities on the Pronunciation of Figures

No longer is the word five in the vocabulary of the Bell Telephone system "five." It is "fife." For instance if your call is "15," you pronounce distictly to the operator "fife-five." She repeats to you "one-fife." It is not because she dosn't know—who ever heard of a telephone central operator who did not know how to pronunce figures? Indeed she does know and knows that "fife" is a great deal more distinguishable a sound over the telephone wires than "five." So that is the reason she says "fife." The instructions to the operators are general over the entire system and "fife" it is universally.

BOY AND MATCHES FIRE COMBINATION

Said that Conflagration on Hill Today Was Started by Three-Year-old Lad---Stable is Practically Destroyed

A fire said to have been started by a three-year old boy playing about the premises partly consumed a stable belonging to Joe Pavlovich at 107 Meadow avenue this morning at 9 o'clock. The interior of the stable was gutted. The loss is covered by insurance.

It is asserted that the boy was playing with others of his own age, and had got into the stable. He had matches. With a conflagration like that fire was inevitable Smoke was discovered issuing from the top of the stable by a resident nearby and the alarm was turned in.

The boy is stated to have scampered for his home when he discovered what had happened, but reappeared later, it is understood to watch the firemen valiantly fight the flames. It proved to be a comparatively small matter to control the fire, but not until after it had completely wrecked the interior. Mr. Nandor has two horses and a cow which he keeps in the stable, but it so happened to be he had them both out when the fire started. The damage would probably total $200.

Mrs. J. H. Mrs. Letherman and daughters had barely got in their buggy to start from home to attend an entertainment at a school not far distant, when their horse, an old and tried family animal, through some sheer reason started on a run down the road. When the horse turned a sharp corner, the buggy was overturned and the three thrown out Mrs. Letherman fell on her shoulders and was the worst injured.

MONTH OF JUNE THE BUSIEST

DATES BOOKED AHEAD

If there is good weather next week and the various events scheduled are held Eldora Park will have had one of the busiest months in all its history. Next week will begin the apparance on Sunday of one of the most famous bands in Western Pennsylvania, the Nirella band from Pittsburg, with Joe Nirella at the head.

The Nirella band will appear in the afternoon and in the evening, giving a concert both times With the band will come Morris Rosen, a tenor soloist, who will sing some of the latest song hits. He is a beautiful singer, and one that is not unknown to the Monongahela valley having appeared at dances at various points in solo work.

Sunday concert programs at Eldora park have not been weak but on the contrary this summer have been exceptionally strong. But the Nirella band will be far superior to any musical attraction thus far. On last Sunday it appeared at Shady Grove Park at Uniontown of which R. S. Coyle of Charleroi is the manager and because of its concerts there fully 10,000 people visited the park. As a result of the popular demand there Manager Coyle has booked the band for two return dates.

During this week one of the most important picnics of the picnic season was held at Eldora when on Wednesday the Ladies Auxiliary of the Monessen Lodge of Elks visited the resort. In the afternoon "500"

Religious Campaign H Marked Effect Upo Big Steel Town

VALLEY INTEREST

Special Reserrations of Se for Special Nights---Cha leroi People Attend

Moments [illegible] the throes of a religious revival. The tabernacle erected [illegible] to time by the ministers of the evangilistical denominations, in charge of Dr. John Hamilton of Cleveland. Beginning to wield a mighty influence, which is being felt in every quarter of the community. The tabernacle is said to be crowded nightly, while the Sunday attendance is phenomenal. The structure, which was built for the occasion, is located on the hill at the head of Sixth street and will seat about 1200 people.

Last Saturday evening a big parade was held in which fully [illegible] women and children participated, marching through the principal streets of the town singing hymns and thence to the tabernacle. During the week a number of special services were scheduled. Tuesday night was W. C. T. U. night and the service was attended by delegates of white ribbon women belonging to the order from all the towns in the valley which have an organization. Wednesday night a special sermon was preached to young people. Friday evening has been designated as "Business Men's Night," and on Saturday night the Tin Plate mill has a special section of the tabrnacle reserved for employes of that plant.

Next Sunday afternoon the Knights of Malta of the valley will march as a body to the afternoon service and Tuesday night a delegation from Charleroi has asked for a large reservation of seats.

It is stated that the metings are making a profound impression with the result that Monessen will likely be a different town as soon as the forces for better moral conditions have been started to work. Like all new industria towns a more or less wide open condition has been tolerated on the grounds that it "helps business." The people are beginning to learn by sad experience that this is a false economic view, as business will prosper wherever people are steadily employed and have regular wants to supply. The official shake-ups and the cleaning up of disorderly places the past few months in the community are likely to be preliminary to a different state of affairs in the future, it is said. A movement is to be inaugurated whereby the people will have the say in public affairs instead of the business and special interests.

A PRACTICAL MOVE.

The decision on the part of the Charleroi school board to install a class for instruction in domestic science for girls is a most progressive move in the direction of practical education. In this department instructions will be given in teaching girls to cook and to sew. While these instructions may not be complete enough to qualify the pupils to become expert cooks and seamstresses, they are most helpful in stimulating a desire on the part of the pupils to become proficient along those lines, and to pave the way for a continuation of these arts in after life. Good cooks and seamstresses are scarce.

In the matter of sewing a vast field is open for young women to acquire a profitable and congenial occupation. There is not a community, urban or suburban, where a constant cry does not go up for proficient seamstresses. In spite of the low wages paid to women for factory and store work, and the overcrowded condition of those industries, the field for private seamstresses has scarcely yet been invaded. All that is necessary is for a girl or woman to show proficiency in the art of cutting, fitting and needle work, and she is assured of a profitable occupation. This is the one handicraft that is still open to women, and which assures independence and a competence.

It is practically the same in the matter of cooking. In this occupation there are social questions which makes it more or less objectionable to girls and women as a profession. In the homes, however, the art is most desirable and as most school girls expect to ultimately become the mistress of a home, it is imperative that they be taught the fundamental knowledge of the art of cooking. The girl who learns to cook and to sew has an accomplishment that will always stand her in hand, no matter what her condition in life may be. The woman who cannot cook, sew or sing, is devoid of all the feminine graces.

ELLSWORTH TO CELEBRATE ON JULY FOURTH

A committee has been appointed at Ellsworth to take charge of the Ellsworth 4th of July celebration, which is to be the most gorgeous and unique celebration which has ever been held in the Pigeon Creek valley. A committee on amusements is arranging with several well known carnival companies for attractions to [illegible] Fourth.

Aside from these there will be the usual contest in athletics, with prizes. Two ball games will feature the day. Moving picture shows will be going all day. Lunches wil be served on the grounds and places provided for those bringing baskets. A big street parade, the equal of which has never been attempted in the Pigeon creek vally, will be the culmination of several weeks' endeavor to produce the most magnificent floats ever seen there.

MULES SAID TO BE THE INNOCENT CAUSE OF STRIKE

Because one of the drivers refused to drive a team of mules instead of his usual pair of horses a strike is on it is stated at the Monongahela brewery. None of the men reported for work Wednesday. The engineer came on duty late in time to save a large amount of the brewery's product then in the brew kettles. Although Manager Henins says no demand has been made the men say they will not return to work until the driver is given back his team of horses.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The Chicago Tribune mentions a number of incidents that might happen which it terms "Little Surprises." Inasmuch as they seldom if ever happen, they would be surprises indeed in the actuality. Here are some of them:

"Finish your good-by, miss; I'll hold th train for a few seconds more."

"I beg your pardon, sir, for carrying you past your floor; I'll go right back."

"You needn't grip the chair so hard, Mr. Akers; the work I am going to do on that tooth won't hurt you a bit this time."

"Dear Sir: We are offered $25,000 for those old mining shares of yours. hold the train for a few seconds

"Harry, I've reconsidered; if you still feel towards me as you did a month ago, why—perhaps—"

The appearance of dewberries in the market calls to mind a story that is told by a woman who visited in Maryland last year. It appeared that at the house where she was a guest they had a colored "auntie" who was both cook and nursemaid. One evening when the auntie was finishing up her work in the kitchen one of the children—a six-year-old boy—was heard howling lustily from that quarter of the house. The mistress called down to ask what was the matter with the child.

"Auntie," she called, "what's Willie crying about?"

"Please missus, it's de dewberries."

"Well, don't give him any more. He's had enough already.

"Dem's de ones he's whoopin' about," was the reply. "He's all swoled up."
